CAMPAIGN

Of Democrats Will Open During Week That Is to Come.

Mammoth Parade and Barbecue Will Begin Warfare For Autumn.

Many Marching Men Will Attract Attention to White Party.

DOWN WITH NEGRO DOMINATION

The Democrats of Louisville and Jefferson county will open their campaign formally during the coming week. On Tuesday and Wednesday there will be a big barbecue at the State Fair grounds, and on those two days the ablest Democratic orators from the State will be heard. The parade will start moving at 8 o'clock and will conclude in ample time to allow the marchers to hobnob with the out-of-town visitors. The organization is as well nigh perfect as can be made. The clubs from the various wards will rendezvous on Broadway, from the Shively street west to Tenth. The route will not be long nor fatiguing. It will comprise a line from Broadway north on Fourth avenue to Jefferson, thence west to Seventh, north to Market, east to Brook, north to Main street and thence to the place of disbanding. Besides the prelude and ward clubs the Kentucky Colonels and the More Greens will be very much in evidence. The visiting Confederate veterans will also be given a post of honor in the parade, and the reviewing stand will be erected in front of the Willard Hotel. The More Greens have secured the services of St. Augustine's Band, a local organization of colored musicians that has won fame in the past.

A prize of $50 in gold will be awarded to the district making the best showing in the parade, and $25 will be given to the best float and $10 to the next best. Nearly every automobile and private vehicle in the city will have some part in the parade, and a corps of thirty physicians and surgeons will be scattered through the line of march to render relief in case of emergency. Attorney Patrick T. Sullivan has charge of the decorations along the route of the parade, and he and his coworkers have received promises that indicate that the buildings will be a mass of bunting from start to finish.

Felix Codazzi, the local representative of A. L. Due, will have charge of the fireworks both at the parade and at the barbecue. During the parade special displays of pyrotechnics will be shown. The parade will be on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Every band in the city has been engaged and it is estimated that at least a dozen bands will be imported from Cincinnati and Indianapolis. The barbecue committee has had a force of men at work at the pits day and night for the past week. The pits are in readiness and the fuel and cattle are at hand. All that is now necessary is the arrival of the time. Every connoisseur will be found on the State Fair grounds. The sanitary arrangements are perfect, as medical tents, emergency hospitals and other accessories have all been provided.

A special feature in the parade and at the barbecue both Tuesday and Wednesday will be the Irish strains of the United States Indian Band, led by James Riley Wheelock. Each of the musicians is attired in Indian costume. They will furnish music for the parade and also for dances and concerts at the barbecue. This band is making its first appearance in Louisville this week. John Tully, the old life-saver, has donated the use of tents, awnings, flags, hammocks and bunting to the camp of the Confederate veterans, and C. C. Blekel has contributed several thousand cigars to the camp of the old soldiers on the State Fair grounds.

Among the speakers at the barbecue will be Congressman Ollie James, from the First district of Kentucky; Hon. A. O. Stanley, Second district; Ex-Lieut. Gov. W. P. Thorne, Judge James W. Hazrig, Hon. Swannar Sherley, who represents Louisville in the United States House of Representatives, and Congressman W. E. Cox, of the Third district of Indiana.

While the rank and file of Democrats are preparing for the barbecue, no time is being given to the various precincts and in taking note of the negro influx. It is estimated that there are 25 per cent. more negro men in Louisville now than there was a year ago. Every negro duly qualified must be allowed to vote. Every negro that is not qualified must be prevented from voting. The Republicans are responsible for the recent negro outrages in Louisville—thieft, robberies, burglaries and assaults upon young white men. The recent exposure of the free rain given negroes in the vicinity of Tenth and Walnut is not news. It has been going on since the beginning of the Grinstead administration, and the promise of the Board of Public Safety to investigate it was not made in good faith. There is not a man connected with the city administration that wants any other condition to prevail. They want negro votes, because they need them to win.

Foster is now tipped for Chief of Detectives to succeed Capt. Tom Maher, who wants to retire on half pay on account of ill health. Well, he has slugged a few inoffensive white citizens while in Louisville to say nothing of his United States army record, his career in Panama and at the Quartermaster's Depot in Jeffersonville. He is too big for the detectives' office. He ought to be in charge of the State troopers at McKees Rocks, Pennsylvania.

The Evening Post has been working itself into a frenzy over the injunctions granted against the Republicans administration. Now if the same Judges will grant an injunction against the Dalley, Grinstead, Ryans and Belknap family from holding all of the city and county offices, to say nothing of controlling the First Regiment, a long suffering public will be duly grateful. Lewis Humphrey, an Evening Post employee and a Belknap son-in-law, was added to the list this week as an Election Commissioner, and still they come. The city and county offices should be labeled "for family use only."

FOREIGN RULERS

Seldom Exchange Personal Greetings With Our President.

President Taft, of the United States, and President Diaz, of Mexico, are to meet on the border between the two great American republics on October 13, and after the exchange of courtesies President Taft will cross into Mexican territory to visit President Diaz in Juarez. In almost less time than it takes to tell it, our President will be back in American territory to welcome the Mexican Chief Executive at El Paso, Texas. Of course the people of both nations will crowd around their respective cities to see what manner of man the other foreign President is, but there will be no fuss nor feathers about either visit.

Not since 1876 has the ruler of any foreign nation visited the United States. At that time the late Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, and his Empress attended the Centennial celebration in Philadelphia. They were cordially received in Washington by the late President Ulysses S. Grant. That was the last occasion of a reigning sovereign coming to this country and many troublesome questions of etiquette arose, all the more difficult to solve by reason of the absence of any sort of precedent to serve as guidance. Gen. Grant settled most of them by invariably yielding the "pass" to his distinguished guests, in accordance with what appeared to him to be the dictates of official as well as of private courtesy.

Only on one occasion did he take precedence of the Emperor. It was at a big dinner given by Sir Edward Thornton, then British Minister at Washington, who had spent many years at Rio as Envoy. This entertainment was primarily for the Emperor. But in view of the fact that Gen. Grant was the President of the country to which Sir Edward was accredited, he outranked everyone else present and headed the procession into the dining room, with the host, the Emperor following in his wake with the Vice President. Moreover, the first toast proposed by Sir Edward was one to Gen. Grant, and it was only after it had been given that the guests were invited to drink the health of Dom Pedro.

YOUNGEST BISHOP.

Dr. Duhig of Australia is Visiting in Ireland.

The Right Rev. Dr. Duhig, Bishop of the diocese of Rockhampton, Queensland, Australia, is at present visiting Ireland, the land of his birth, and has met with ovations wherever he has gone. Dr. Duhig is the youngest Bishop in the world and is only thirty-eight years old. He was only five years in Australia when elevated to the episcopacy.

His visit to Monaghan, the Cathedral town of the diocese of Clogher, was hailed with delight. He praised the magnificent new Cathedral and its appointments and preached the sermon there on the second Sunday of this month. His subject was "Devotion to the Mother of God," and Bishop Duhig dwelt at length upon the devotion of the Irish people to the Blessed Virgin through her holy rosary. He said the Irish people had carried their faith and their devotion to Mary, Most Holy, to America, Australia and to all parts of the globe. He will remain at least another month in his native land.

NEW MOTHER SUPERIOR.

Sister Francesca has been chosen head of Holy Rosary Academy, on West Ormsby avenue, to succeed Sister Vincentia, who has been transferred to one of the Dominican convents near Boston. Mother Francesca is a native of Lexington, and is a sister of the Very Rev. Father L. P. Kearney, Provincial of the Dominicans.

PROF. DOWD RETURNS.

Prof. D. F. Dowd and wife have returned from Atlantic City and other Eastern points after an absence of two months. Prof. Dowd is greatly improved in health and will soon open his dancing academy for the fall and winter season.

CANONS

Of Armagh Tender Cordial Welcome to Archbishop of New York.

Monsignor Farley Crosses Shatts of Wit With Cardinal Logue.

Courtesies Exchanged Between Two of Greatest Irish Churchmen.

RESTS AT CARDINAL'S CAMP

His Grace Archbishop Farley, of New York, was given a rousing welcome when he arrived in Armagh to visit His Eminence Cardinal Logue early this month. Archbishop Farley had planned to spend a week of quiet and rest at the Cardinal's camp at Carlingford, but the Very Reverend Canons of Armagh ordered otherwise, and tendered the visitor from America a rousing welcome, because he was an Irishman, a native of the primate's diocese of Armagh and the Archbishop of the greatest American metropolis.

In presenting his distinguished guest to the Canons Cardinal Logue took occasion to apologize for the welcome. Among other things he said: "I know it was the desire of Your Grace to come here for a quiet visit and to get a little rest, because you have very little rest at home. I know Your Grace would have preferred no display, but these Canons of mine would neither obey me nor obey their Dean, and I do not know if even they would obey the Pope. I can assure Your Grace they would have been ten times more grateful if you had never allowed me to come back from New York."

After thanking the Cardinal and Canons for their cordial welcome, Archbishop Farley said that he felt the welcome was intended for the people of New York and of all America as much as for himself. "But I hardly think it is fair for your Cardinal to put a poor man like me, unaccustomed as I am to public speaking, to embarrassment this way. Now I feel like an old statesman, Cosmo di Medici. He was dying, and on being asked if he forgave everybody he said: 'I forgive all my enemies, but the Good Book does not tell us that we are obliged to forgive our friends.' So that I withhold until my good pleasure my absolution from His Eminence for what he has done to me."

Archbishop Farley then talked to the assembled Irish ecclesiastics on the wonderful growth of the church in New York. He said in part: "Beginning with one small church 160 years ago, today it has 145 churches and over 1,000,000 Catholics. To the blood and the faith of the Irish people that is very largely due, thank God! With regard to myself and what you have been pleased to say of me, I feel like an old Armagh man, a fellow-diocesan of yours, and of course an Irishman. Although it was a very important event in my life when I came to this diocese first, I was not consulted personally about it, and hence I take no credit to myself for it."

In regard to whatever I have done in my career as a priest, Vicar General, Bishop or Archbishop, I feel there is much more to be regretted than to be proud of. When one looks back at the history of one nearly forty years in the priesthood, you very Reverend Canons, who have given so much of your lives to the service of God, can well understand how much there is to be desired in the lives of all of us. I have enough to think of to keep me humble, but there is one thing I do feel justly proud of, and that is that I possess the friendship of the most distinguished ecclesiastic in the Three Kingdoms today—His Eminence Cardinal Logue.

"There are some things you have not heard of in your visit to New York. I should tell you all he did and said there. The newspaper reporters first came in contact with His Eminence on the steamer before he touched New York—it happened to be in a very dense fog—and the first question put to Cardinal Logue was 'What do you think of America?' 'I have not seen America yet. There has been such a fog since morning that I can see nothing but the ship's surroundings.' From that time until he left the reporters were camped on his trail, and his wonderful personal magnetism won the Catholics and completely hypnotized the Protestants. We are all waiting for His Eminence to visit us again. Later in the evening Cardinal Logue and Archbishop Farley repaired to the Cardinal's camp at Carlingford to remain a week."

MEXICO'S GRAND CATHEDRAL.

The recent earthquake in Mexico did serious damage to the magnificent Cathedral of the city of Mexico. It was the city's chief architectural feature, its most majestic and inspiring edifice. It is located on the side of the Plaza Mayor de la Constitucion, the principal square in the city. It covers a greater area than any other church in the Western hemisphere, and was surpassed in this respect only by St. Peter's in Rome and the Spanish Cathedral in Seville. Erection of the edifice was begun in the last half of the sixteenth century, and it was two centuries later before the building was finished. The railing of the choir is gold, silver and copper, and is said to have cost $1,500,000. The Cathedral has been the scene of several coronations and other events of national importance.

PLAN REUNION.

Division 2 to Give Picnic and Euchre Next Month.

Division 2, A. O. H., will give a picnic, euchre and ball at Phoenix Hill Park on September 20, and every division and the Ladies' Auxiliary is invited to help swell the crowd on that occasion. The Executive Committee that is arranging the picnic is made up of President Con J. Ford, John T. Kearney, Tim Stone, Dan McKenna and Joe Lynch. The Euchre Committee is made up of Raymond Barrett, William T. McLean and David Murphy.

Division 2 is one of the oldest divisions, and as it name indicates was the second established in the city, and has done excellent work since its establishment. President Ford and his colleagues are anxious for a grand gathering at the forthcoming picnic, euchre and dance. They want to make it a reunion of old members and friends, and on their part will leave nothing undone to make the evening an enjoyable one.

STRICKEN SUDDENLY.

Lexington Priest Succumbs After Very Brief Illness.

Rev. Father John J. O'Neill, assistant pastor of St. Peter's church, Lexington, died at his father's home in that city early Sunday morning. Death resulted from a sudden stroke of paralysis. Saturday morning he celebrated mass and went about his pastoral duties as usual that day. While sitting in his father's home at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening he was suddenly stricken. At 10:30 o'clock he lost consciousness and remained in that condition until his death.

Father O'Neill was born in Lexington forty-nine years ago, and is survived by his father, James O'Neill, aged ninety years, and a sister, Miss Susie O'Neill. After attending the parochial school in Lexington the deceased priest attended St. John's Seminary at Milwaukee, and was ordained by Bishop Maes in 1886. He was made assistant pastor of St. Peter's church under the pastor, Father Brosnan, now Vicar General of the Covington diocese. Later he served as assistant pastor at Newport, Nicholasville, Frankfort and again at Lexington.

The remains lay in state in St. Peter's church from Tuesday evening until Wednesday morning, when the Right Rev. Bishop Maes conducted the funeral obsequies. Father O'Neill was regarded as a brilliant as well as a most lovable priest.

RECENT DEATHS.

The heartfelt sympathy of many friends goes out to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Canine, whose infant daughter, Helen Catherine, died at the family residence, 1301 Hill street, Monday morning. The little one was only twenty months old, but had found a warm place in the hearts of her parents. The funeral took place from the residence on Tuesday.

James McGuire, aged eighteen years, died at the home of his parents, 2814 Fourth avenue, Tuesday morning, and the funeral took place from Holy Name church on Thursday morning. The deceased was a son of Thomas McGuire, the well known L. and N. engineer. He was quite popular with all who knew him and his untimely demise is a cause for general regret.

Ernest J. Pilson, a popular young man of the East End and a member of Trinity Church, Y. M. I., died at the family residence, 721 East Chestnut street, Monday afternoon. Death resulted after months of patient suffering. The deceased was only twenty-two years old. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Louisa Pilson, five brothers, Clifford, Robert, Frank, Walter and Harry Pilson, and three sisters, Misses Ida, Blanche, Nina and May Pilson. His funeral took place from St. John's church Wednesday morning and was attended by many sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Carrie Baldwin, one of the best known matrons in the East End, died at St. Anthony's Hospital at noon Tuesday. She had been removed to that institution from her home, 1234 Willow avenue, in order that an operation might be performed, and succumbed a few minutes after reaching the hospital. She was born in Louisville thirty-four years ago, and is survived by her husband, John R. Baldwin; the following children, John, William, Anna May, Eleanor, Mary Katherine and Madeline; her father, John Whitman, and two brothers, Frederick and James Whitman. The deceased was a devout member of St. Patrick's church and her funeral took place from that sanctuary on Thursday morning.

FATHER MEANEY ILL.

It will be with regret that the elder members of St. Louis' Bertrand parish learn that the Rev. Father J. J. Meaney, O. P., President of St. Patrick's College at Columbus, Ohio, is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever. Father Meaney was born and grew to manhood in St. Louis Bertrand parish.

TRAINING

Colored Girls to Become Useful Members of World's Workers.

Great Good Accomplished by the Sisters of Blessed Sacrament.

Founded by Mother Katharine Drexel Less Than a Decade.

DOMESTIC SCIENCES ARE TAUGHT

For eight years past a quiet and very distinctive and at the same time a forceful work in the educational field has been developing in the St. Francis de Sales Institute for colored girls at Rock Castle, Va. The school was erected in 1899 by Mother Katharine Drexel and placed under the personal supervision of her own nuns, the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. No effort was spared to make building and equipment as nearly perfect as possible. The institute is located about forty miles from Richmond, Va. The building is constructed of brick with granite trimmings and according to the modified type of Elizabethan architecture. The main building looks down upon the James river and the wings face Deep creek on one side and Liek creek on the other. The situation is ideal for earnest study, since beautiful nature is pre-eminent, while distractions and noises of a city are remote.

The Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament were founded about twenty years ago by Mother Katharine Drexel for the education of the colored and Indian children. These earnest and self-sacrificing nuns make a specialty of their work and are always seeking to have the best and to give the best to the two races to whom they exclusively devote themselves. A cordial welcome is extended to all colored people, regardless of creed, to send their daughters to enjoy the privileges held out by St. Francis de Sales Institute, and no attempt is made to force the Catholic faith upon non-Catholics, but the religious convictions of the pupils.

One of the aims of the Sisters is to educate their pupils physically, mentally and morally; to form them into truly noble, wholesome women, and thus make of each individual a potent factor in the bettering of the whole race. The purpose of the school is found in its broad, well rounded curriculum. It is unique in this, that it has no primary department. Pupils must come prepared to enter the Sixth grade, that is, must have successfully passed Fifth grade examinations. In the literary department there are two courses, an academic and an intermediate course. Each course covers a period of four years. The intermediate completes the full grammar course and gives to the pupils a thorough education in all the essential branches of every day life.

For pupils who wish to fit themselves for teachers or to take up more advanced literary studies, the academic course is admirably adapted, comprising English literature, botany, physics, chemistry, higher mathematics, Latin and the elements of pedagogy and psychology. Besides a thorough course is given in domestic art, beginning with a preparatory class in dress-making and designing of costumes, in order to acquire a certificate in either intermediate or academic departments it is essential that students finish this one year's course in domestic art, as the management of the school feels that a woman's education is not complete without this necessary and most desirable accomplishment. Lessons in fine needlework, dress-making, drawn work and art embroidery form one of the most attractive features of the school. The gold medal for the best display of needle work was awarded the school by the Jamestown Exposition. Lessons in fine art needlework are elected.

Domestic science is another special feature and includes a graded course in general cooking, followed by a course in home nursing and waiting upon invalids and on the table. Considerable attention is paid to vocal and instrumental music. Visitors to the institute are invariably charmed by the kindness of the Sisters, the beauty of the building and its surroundings. The chapel, class rooms, music room, library, cooking school, dressmaking department, dormitories and infirmaries, while their own distinctive interest, while the dining room and kitchen are centers of attraction at certain times each day.

The charges are merely nominal, being $5 a month for board and $10 to $15 yearly for incidental expenses, tuition in all departments being furnished gratis. Catholics who have visited this splendid institution commend the work undertaken by Mother Drexel and her self-sacrificing colleagues. It has to be seen to be appreciated.

CATHOLIC PRESS.

At the opening of the recent convention of the National Catholic Federation the Right Rev. Bishop Maes, of Covington, paid the following tribute to the Catholic press: "We believe," said the Bishop, the liberty of the press. Noble efforts are being made to lift the Catholic press to the height of its worthy vocation, and we applaud the energy of every man who gives his energies, his fortune, his life to vindicate the rights of Christ upon the souls of all people. I am confident we have hundreds of men competent to edit creditably efficient Catholic journals. Those who are actually doing heroic work in this cause make barely more than a struggling livelihood. Remember, that to organize a strong press we need not only men, but money. Your own personal help is wanted. You are never too poor to pay for the defense of your faith."

FEARS PUBLICITY.

John D. Crimmins Scores Those Who Live Abroad.

John D. Crimmins, one of the wealthiest and best known Irish-American residents of New York, and Gen. James Barry, of the United States army, are touring Ireland. While in Dublin Mr. Crimmins talked entertainingly to the correspondent of the New York World on those Americans who prefer to live in England. He said in part: "I have read many letters in the newspapers over here from people who call themselves Americans, and I wonder if they really are. Americans in the name, perhaps, but not in the spirit. There may be some reason based on family connections to account for some persons' preference of country in which to live. I know but little of the English home life, but I do know the American, and there is no more delightful, more wholesome life among the people of any country than we have in our midst. There are exceptions, of course—say one in a hundred. No, there is no such healthy family life as we see in our suburban settlements and country homes. I live among them and know of what I speak."

"There are many whom American can spare, and any country who would give them homes are welcome to them, even if they carry a few of our dollars with them. A reason made to serve the Anglo-American in his choice of a home is the publicity the American press gives to the inner lives of society people. As Americans or any others make their beds they must lie in them. Many millions in America live decently and may be spoken of as genteel people whose names have never appeared in press gossip. Those who seek notoriety will surely get it, and those who make vulgar displays will be noticed. It is a very small world in which lives those who are determined to be noticed by the press, while a very large world in America pursues the even course and lives the clean, pure American life."

GRAND SUCCESS.

Joint Picnic at Phoenix Hill Park Attracted Big Crowd.

It was a good, old-fashioned Irish crowd that gathered at Phoenix Hill Park Tuesday night to help Division 3 and the Ladies' Auxiliary celebrate. The ladies outnumbered the men in attendance, and all were liberal spenders. Without doubt it was the most enjoyable Irish Catholic social event of the season. Irish men and women, their sons and daughters, assembled for a holiday and they surely had it. It seemed that everyone knew everybody else, so that the afternoon and evening passed splendidly.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary certainly contributed their share toward making the outing a success, and the prizes awarded the hardest workers were well observed. Miss Rose Sweeney and Mrs. Daniel Dougherty were awarded gold rings bearing the emblem of the order, while Misses Fannie Kennedy, Josie Godfrey and Mrs. Rose Anshack received the second prizes. Gold pins emblematic of the order, the presentation speeches were made by Hon. W. O. Head, Democratic nominee for Mayor; Attorney Thomas Walsh and Patrick T. Sullivan, President of Division 3.

While the men received no prizes there certainly should be some coming to D. J. Coleman, P. T. Sullivan, State President George J. Butler, Dan Dougherty, County President P. J. Walsh and John Hession. A vote of thanks is also due Prof. Dennis Collins for the excellence of his dance music. After all bills are settled a nice balance will be left to be divided between the Ladies' Auxiliary and Division 3. The next big social event in Illibernian circles will be Division 2's picnic on September 20.

The tug of war attracted great enthusiasm and both teams had receptive admirers. There was only one trouble, the men were so stocky the rope and at the first yank the rope parted in the center and the men went down in a heap on either side.

JEFFERSONVILLE ILLIBERNIANS.

Next Wednesday evening the Jeffersonville division of the Ancient Order of Illibernians will give an excursion up the Ohio river, and all their friends on this side of the river are expected and cordially invited to attend. Good music will be on hand and an able comrade led by Louis (Donatiano) Robert, Glenon, Thomas O'Brien and Capt. John B. Murphy will see that the Louisville guests are well treated. The boat will leave the Louisville wharf at 8 o'clock and Jeffersonville at 8:30 p.m.

FUN GALORE.

Mirth and Music Helped While Away Hours at Social Session.

Division 4 Royally Entertained by Its Own Vaudeville Artists.

Brief Business Meeting Prior to Several Hours Pleasure.

NIGHT WORTH REMEMBERING

Division 4, A. O. H., held an excellent meeting last Monday night. One might say two excellent meetings, because the social session was entirely distinct from the business meeting, and both were well attended. President John H. Heaness presided and was pleased not only with the attendance of his own division but over the fact that so many visitors from other divisions were present. The business was hurried through with all due celerity, so that ample time might be given to the social feature.

Joseph McCarthy and Richard Monahan were obligated; the application of John Heaness was received; John Healy, who has been ill, was reported unimproved, and Michael Doyle was reported fully recovered from the injuries to his foot. Rev. Father Christmas, O. P., Chaplain of Division 4, gave a short talk on the holy sacrifice of the mass. This was a treat, especially to the visitors from other divisions. State President George J. Butler, complimented Division 4 on its progress and invited all to attend the joint picnic of Division 3 and the Ladies' Auxiliary on the following night. He also praised the division for its work in securing as Chaplain Father Christmas, and said that every Irishman and man of Irish extraction should affiliate with the Illibernians and help safeguard the rights of holy mother church. He also urged the members to push the study of Irish history in the parochial schools and thereby perpetuate the glorious order in which they were affiliated.

The business having been brought to a close all adjourned to the big hall, where William P. McDonough, William J. Connelly and Stephen J. McElliot, who constituted the Entertainment Committee, took charge. In the big hall Prof. Dennis Collins and his orchestra of six pieces were already installed, and for fifteen minutes the air was full of old and new Irish tunes and late popular American music. All were prompt that Prof. Collins was a member of Division 4. John Green, a popular Illibernian vocalist, sang a baritone solo and was accompanied on the piano by E. G. King. The rendition was well received.

Attorney Newton G. Rogers made an address on the recent Catholic Federation convention at Pittsburgh and also gave personal reminiscences of former days in Illibernian. Next in order was an Irish medley on the flute with John E. Browne as the star performer. Irish jigs, reels and hornpipes were too tempting for some to resist and within a few seconds after Mr. Browne started Joe McCarthy and Teddy O'Toole were hoofing it for all they were worth.

State President Butler, D. J. Coleman and John Hession, all visitors from Division 3, insisted that Dave Reilly sing "The Irish Jubilee" and all who heard it said the evening would not have been complete without it. Robert Emmet, an Irish epic of 19 stanzas, was sung by Richard Monahan and all marvelled at his powers of endurance. Pat Mitchell and Pat Burke surprised their friends by knocking off a hornpipe at a lively clip. Mike Walsh sang one of his favorite ballads, and then came the piece de resistance, as they say in Limerick French. It was a Marathon breakdown with Tom Dignan and Stephen J. McElliot as starters. They took steps that no dancing master or ballet premiere dancer ever dreamed of. Both appeared to have been carefully trained. Dignan displayed the greater avoidpols, but McElliot beat him in length of limb. At the end of twenty minutes the judges declared the honors even, and all members agreed that theatrical managers were overlooking a bet if they did not immediately sign up the "Dancing Duo—Dignan and Mac."

Refreshment and cigars were served in abundance during the evening and all will long remember Division 4's latest social session.

POPE PIUS' AUTOMOBILE.

Pope Pius X., while deeply grateful to the Americans who presented him with an automobile, had no place to use it other than in the limited space of the Vatican Gardens. According to the Rome correspondents he kept it for a short while for form's sake, and now has made a present of it to the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Merry del Val.

ENJOYING TOUR.

Judge and Mrs. Matt O'Doherty are enjoying their tour of Ireland. The latest advices show that they have been guests of Seumas MacManus at his home in Donegal.

SHOWS PROPER SPIRIT.

The spirit exhibited by the United Irish Societies of Chicago last week is worthy of emulation. No less than 20,000 Irishmen were present when the following resolution was adopted:

"We approve the policy pursued by the Irish Parliamentary party, and express our confidence in the honor, fidelity and ability of the Irish leader, John E. Redmond, and his patriotic colleagues. We pledge to the United Irish League in Ireland our sincere co-operation in the heroic struggle for the possession of Irish lands and liberty. We rejoice at the noble and cheering spectacle afforded by the unity of the Irish people, Catholic and Protestant, in demanding an Irish government for the Irish people of all creeds and races. We gravely warn American statesmen, who may think otherwise, that we denounce with all our strength any attempt to disregard the advice of George Washington to avoid entering into entangling alliances, especially with Great Britain, the persistent, treacherous enemy of the United States. We extend to our German fellow-citizens the right hand of fellowship and good will, and pledge ourselves to stand with them shoulder to shoulder in opposing all English or so-called Anglo-Saxon schemes in this republic."

Irish and Germans are the bone and sinew of this country, and neither race will consent to the United States making an entangling alliance with Great Britain.

BRISBANE'S BLUNDER.

William Randolph Hearst, of yellow-journal fame, and for some years the possessor of Presidential aspirations, has permitted his man Friday, Arthur Brisbane, editor of the New York Journal, to throw the fat in the fire. A majority of the Irish-Americans vote the Democratic ticket, but Brisbane's recent attack on things Catholic lost the Journal any respect the Irish people had for him or Hearst. Only a few months ago Brisbane told of his Irish parentage, but now the Irish can thank heaven he was not born in Ireland. In reference to the revolutionary outbreak in Barcelona Brisbane wrote:

"All power to the real men and women of Spain, and to their rebellion against darkness, superstition and the 'divine right' of the half-idiot Alfonso."

The first affront to law, order and religion was followed the next day with a cartoon representing King Alfonso on his way to the "Down and Out Club." On the walls of that structure were portraits of William Jennings Bryan, Castro, the deposed Sultan of Turkey and the Pope. Blaine had his Burchard and Hearst has his Brisbane. It is now Hearst's turn to take a life membership in the "Down and Out Club."

REDEEM KENTUCKY.

There is no time to redeem Kentucky from Republican rule like the present, and the place to begin is in Louisville. What has the Republican party done for the workingmen? Made slaves of them. What is it doing for them now? For answer look at Pennsylvania, the banner State of the Union as far as Republicanism is concerned. Workmen within the present week have been shot down like dogs; manacled men have been fastened to horses and dragged through the streets. By whom and for what? Not by hired thugs, but by men clothed with the authority of law, as law goes in Pennsylvania, by duly accredited deputy sheriffs and State troopers. Their only offense is that they refused to remain the slaves of the American Pressed Steel Car Company at McKee's Rocks. Now another charge is made—that of peonage. Albert Varnos, an Austrian, complained to the Consul of his country at Pittsburgh that he had been forced to take the place of strikers in the plant, and when he wanted to leave was so badly beaten that he had to be sent to a hospital. Varnos and the Consul say that many more of their countrymen are being worked as peons against their will.

All this in a free country and under the boasted good government of Republicans. This is what will come to pass in Kentucky unless things are soon mended. Why else was the First Regiment disintegrated save to put in Republican officers to do the bidding of the Republican machine at the coming fall election. Louisville and all Kentucky must be redeemed from these bloodthirsty knaves who cry liberty aloud to divert attention from the fact that liberty is for them and slavery for the people.

GUARD YOUR CHILDREN.

Many parents of the present generation are spoiling their children by allowing them too much of their own way. Sometimes the father is to blame and often the mother. The father knows the pitfalls into which his sons and daughters may fall by associating with bad companions and keeping late hours. On the other hand the mother is prone to think that the father is too strict; that boys will be boys and girls will be girls. She gets that peculiar idea that many people have that youngsters must "sow their wild oats." These mistaken mothers and fathers live to regret this, and yet regret does not seem to cure the habit.

The boys and girls allowed their own way soon lose respect for their parents. Love and affection departs and if the parents live to old age they must pass their declining years in some old people's home. The trials and, in some cases, the hardships which parents have undergone in rearing and educating their children are forgotten by the children. All they want is a good time and the old folks are always in the way.

CAXON LECTURES BISHOP.

Leaders in the Established church of England are engaged in a row over the divorce question. Canon Hensley Henson, of Westminster Abbey, who recently visited the United States, has taken the Bishop of Manchester to task because the latter forbade a divorced Episcopalian minister to marry. The Canon claims the Bishop had no justification in depriving a clergyman of a right which the law unquestionably secured him. After all the Catholic church is the only one that maintains the indissolubility of the marriage tie.

Federal statistics show that the present prohibition wave sweeping over the country cost the Government during the fiscal year ending June 30 the sum of $8,600,000. Certainly it has cost cities, towns and States ten times that much and the deficit will have to be made up. Those who dance must pay the fiddler, and the prohibitionists are dancing now.

The Catholic Mirror of Memphis well says: "If men talked religion as constantly and earnestly as they do politics, the churches would not hold half the converts." Yet some people are of the opinion that Kentucky is the only State in which politics is the sole and constant theme.

The International Catholic issued a splendid edition on the occasion of the dedication of St. Mary's Cathedral in Salt Lake City. The Catholic press, like other signs of progress, is looming up in the West.

BAD COMPANY.

Boys are not the only mortals that bad company ruins. No person can withstand or resist the evil influence of bad companionship. Parental influence can not check it. No virtue is so strong, no intelligence or education so superior or enlightened as can only be the victim to the baneful influence of evil companionship. The proverb says, "Tell me with whom you associate and I will tell you who you are." Or again, "Companionship is among likes, or makes likes." This being so, therefore should the greatest vigilance be exercised in this respect. St. Augustine says: "Bad company is like a nail driven into a post, which after the first or second blow may be drawn out with little difficulty, but being once driven up to the head, the pliers can not take hold to draw it out, but which can only be done by the destruction of the wood."

WINNERS.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A. have awarded the prizes offered at the outing at Pontiac Ferry Park last week. The table goes to the holder of ticket 2,322 and the chair to 13,415. Holders of these tickets can secure an order for the prizes by presenting the coupons at the office of the Kentucky Irish American.

ST. LOUIS CENTENARY.

St. Louis will inaugurate its centennial celebration with a "Church day" celebration on October 6. Archbishop Glennon has given the idea his approval and seventy-six churches in the city will participate in the exercises of the day. Tablets to be unveiled on the early churches of St. Louis will show how important a part the missionaries of the church played in the early history of the large and growing city.

WHO EDWARD BARRY IS.

Good Record of the Democratic Nominee For County Assessor.

Edward A. Barry, the Democratic nominee for County Assessor, is a Kentuckian horn and bred. He was born in Louisville thirty-three years ago, and received his education in local schools, graduating with high honor. For several years he held a responsible position with the Bridgeford Stove Company and later with the Geiger-Fiske Company. He then took a position as sanitary inspector in the Louisville health department and served faithfully and well in that capacity for six years. During that time Dr. M. K. Allen was health officer and declared that he had no more capable or efficient assistant than Ed Barry.

Upon leaving the service of the city's health department he took a temporary position with his brother, John J. Barry, who for the past ten years has conducted a cafe on East Market street. For general proclivity the Messrs. Barry have a reputation excelled by no citizens of Louisville. Edward A. Barry is possessed of every qualification necessary to fill the office of County Assessor, and if elected will discharge the duties of that position with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of his friends and the taxpayers.

A TYPICAL MAID OF ERIN.

Dedicated to "One of the Kind." It's a pretty little shamrock that she wears upon her breast, and the color of her flag is just the shade in which she's dressed.

There's an emerald on her finger, There's a burning in her heart, For the land where turf and barley Always play the leading part.

With a bit of roguish humor, And a twinkle in her eye, She's a charming little colleen, She's a golden butterfly.

She can charm the melancholy, She can cheer the most depressed, She's a darling little birdling In a richly feathered nest.

She can sing of "Dear Old Erin" And the "Wearing of the Green," And the hymn of dear St. Patrick—She's an Emerald Island Queen.

Then she loves the song "Amerien," But 'tis her heart's endeavor To resound the dear old motto—That of "Ireland Forever," Virginia Andriot.

Miss Theresa Beisler and Mr. Dorso Dellart have returned home after a pleasant visit to relatives in Cincinnati.

Miss Katherine Timmons and Miss Mary Hanlon are visiting Niagara Falls, Canada, Buffalo and Rochester. In the latter city they will be the guests of the Rev. Father T. J. Timmons and his mother.

The engagement of Miss Mary Anna Thoben and Victor H. Weber has been announced, and the wedding will be solemnized on Thursday, September 16. Rev. Dr. O. P. Ackerman will officiate.

John Hanrahan, Otto Kaufman, Emmet Hanrahan and Patrick Sheehan spent Sunday at the Cummings' country home at Belmont, where they were entertained in a most hospitable manner.

Miss Margie Sheridan and her aunt, Mrs. J. T. Went, of Syracuse, are visiting Mrs. J. Sheridan, of Kenwood way, Mendocino. The hostess is the mother of the first and sister of the latter named guest.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Clare and daughter, Miss Mayme, of New Albany, have gone to Elmira, N. Y., to spend a week at Mr. Clare's former home. Mr. Clare is an applicant for Railroad Commissioner in Indiana.

Charles Anderson, son of Emil Anderson, President of the Southern Planning Mill, is suffering from a malignant attack of fever at his father's home on Virginia avenue. His family and friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Masters Emmet and Will Hannon, sons of Edward D. Hannon, Chairman of the Board of Aldermen of Paducah, have returned home after spending five weeks in Louisville as the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hannon, 1320 Bardston road.

Daniel Livingston, of Lawrence, Neb., who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Ellen Evans, of New Albany, has returned home. He has resided in Nebraska for twenty-nine years and has prospered. Mr. Livingston is editor and publisher of the Lawrence Locomotive.

Miss Catherine Ludwig and Clarence J. Schmitt, well known young people of the East End, were united in marriage at St. Boniface's church, Tuesday morning. The bride-elect is a daughter of Andrew B. Ludwig, and the lucky groom holds a responsible position with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company.

Miss Ella M. Gibson and John T. Black, well known young people of New Albany, were married by the Rev. Father Charles Curran in the rectory of Holy Trinity church on Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Black left for a trip to the Northern lakes, and will be at home to their friends at 530 East Eighth street, New Albany, after October 1.

Miss Genevieve Magdalene Conroy and Alphonse L. Shader will be united in matrimony at St. Frances of Rome church in Clifton on Wednesday morning, September 8. The Rev. Father Thomas W. White officiating. Miss Mary A. Fitzgerald and Dennis Lananah will be the attendants. After breakfast at the bride's home the happy couple will leave for New York and the East. Miss Conroy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Conroy, of Clifton.

NEW ALBANY PRIESTS ILL.

The Rev. Father James Ryan, assistant pastor of Holy Trinity church, New Albany, is slowly improving at St. Edward's Hospital. Early in the week he was stricken with what appeared to be a spinal fever. Since then the physicians have declared his ailment to be malarial fever. It is hoped that he will be fully recovered before another week goes by. The venerable Father Faller, of St. Mary's church, New Albany, was also quite ill early in the week and on account of his advanced age great apprehension was caused. Fortunately he has taken a turn for the better and is now believed to be on the high road to recovery.

JAMES LYNN REMEMBERED.

At the regular meeting of St. Cecilia's Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul's Society last Sunday appropriate resolutions were adopted on the death of James Lynn, a venerable and respected member of the conference whose demise was noted recently. The committee that drafted the resolutions was made up of Peter Tevlin, Peter M. Andriot and Edward D. Kelly.

TALKING PRODUCES WRINKLES.

A prominent scientist has given the world the valuable information that "too much talking produces wrinkles." Wrinkles will come sooner or later to all who live long on earth, but too much talk often brings trouble long before the lines that indicate the passing of years appear.

GRAND OFFICERS

Elected at Indianapolis by Delegates to Indiana Jurisdiction.

The Grand Council, Y. M. I., Indiana Jurisdiction, met at Indianapolis on Tuesday and Wednesday and disposed of a vast amount of business. The following Grand officers were chosen:

Chaplain—Rev. Francis Gavick, Indianapolis.

President—Maurice J. Scaplan, Indianapolis.

First Vice President—Paul Bommer, Indianapolis.

Second Vice President—James Ashbrenner, New Albany.

Secretary—Joseph C. Schreiner, Indianapolis.

Treasurer—W. H. Callahan, Terre Haute.

Marshal—R. H. Sherlock, Lafayette.

Grand Directors—Patrick Hanlon, Indianapolis, and John Reiche, of North Vernon; both over Directors Joseph Sowa, Brazil; M. F. McCarthy, Indianapolis.

The Committee on Laws presented a voluminous report and the Grand Council was called upon to consider ninety-eight amendments. It was decided to hold biennial sessions of the Grand Council after 1910. All new councils will be hereafter carried on under the Detroit plan, that is a member on reaching the age of thirty-five years must retire from active participation. After paying all expenses more than $4,000 was left in the treasury. It was decided to begin an active campaign for new councils at once. Among the visitors were Deputy Supreme President R. M. Reilly, Supreme Secretary Slinger and Supreme Trustee Charles F. Pfeffer.

ILLNESS PROVES FATAL.

William J. Bishop, a well known member of Division 3, A. O. H., died at the home of his brother-in-law, Charles J. Finegan, 314 North Nineteenth street, Wednesday afternoon. He had been in failing health for two years past, and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was thirty-four years old and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Susie Bishop, and his parents, William and Barbara Bishop. Mr. Bishop had been engaged in the grocery business since boyhood and until his final illness was associated with his brother-in-law, Charles J. Finegan. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church Friday morning. He was affiliated with the Woodmen of the World as well as with the Hibernians and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.

Miss Elizabeth Klug made a hit with her country store.

Division 1 will not meet until a week from next Tuesday night.

Mrs. Dave Welsh was the star in the Irish breakdown Tuesday night.

Divisions 1, 2 and 4 were well represented at the Hill Tuesday night.

Wednesday night is the regular meeting night for the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The division at Pueblo, Cal., expects to initiate a large class in the near future.

The four divisions at Pawtucket, R. I., have inaugurated a movement to secure a new hall.

Division 2 will have a social session next Friday night and all the divisions are invited to attend.

The County Board will meet next Wednesday night. Matters of importance are to be discussed.

State President George J. Butler wore a beaming smile when he saw the great crowd at the joint picnic.

Thursday will be the regular meeting night for Division 3, and plans for the anniversary celebration will be elaborated upon.

Members of the order in Minneapolis have taken preliminary steps toward having Irish history taught in the parochial schools.

The social session given by Division 4 Monday night was a success.

It put all in a good humor and made them all better liberals.

D. J. Coleman was the premier hunter for Division 3 at Phoenix Hill Park Thursday night.

He seemed to be everywhere at once.

Returns from Connecticut divisions indicate that the order in that State is better off in membership, property and finances than ever.

Boston will probably get the next Massachusetts State convention, because it is the only city large enough to handle an affair of such magnitude.

That Hibernian crowd made a fine impression on the Democratic candidates who were visitors Tuesday night. They were given warm welcomes, but were not importuned to blow themselves.

St. Paul, Minn., has a Hibernian baseball league, and when Divisions 4 and 9 crossed bats the last time the score was close until the ninth inning, when Division 9 made nine runs and won the game.

STILL IN THE RACE.

Louisville's baseball team will play the final game of the present series with Columbus on the home grounds this afternoon.

They will open a series of three games at Toledo, and before the Colonels return they are scheduled to play four games each at Columbus and Indianapolis. Thus far the Colonels are holding up well and still have an excellent chance for the pennant.

What the team needs most now is encouragement. The local fans quit too early in the action. An error, a base on balls or a strike out is condemned at once as an unpardonable sin. The fans forget the star work of a player of the day before. Just boost the Colonels a little and see what the result will be. The team will return home on September 9 to remain until the season closes.

BISHOP'S CONSECRATION.

The Right Rev. Edmund Dunne will be consecrated Bishop in the Cathedral at Chicago on September 1, and will take formal possession of his see of Peoria on September 8.

Very Rev. Father D. J. Riordan, pastor of St. Elizabeth's church, Chicago, who preached the sermon when Bishop-elect Dunne celebrated his first mass, will also deliver the sermon on the occasion of his consecration.

FOR LOCAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

Great interest is attached to the second game of the Portland and Intertown teams, which takes place tomorrow at Portland Park.

The first game last Sunday resulted in a victory for Portland. The winner of the series will then play off with Glenwoods for championship of the Falls Cities. Doherty and Yantz will be the battery for Portland, while Harper and Evans will be the mainstay for Intertown. Unhappy Ryan and Murphy will officiate.

JEFFERSONVILLE WEDDING.

Miss Nellie M. Spahr and William B. Clisco, popular young people of Jeffersonville, were united in marriage in the rectory of St. Augustine's church by the Rev. Father O'Connell on Wednesday morning.

The attendants were Louis Koberg and Miss Ray Cook. After a breakfast at the home of the bride Mr. and Mrs. Clisco left for Atlantic City and New York on a bridal tour.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

The Charles A. Rogers Book Company, whose advertisement appears in another column, is prepared to supply school books, stationery and school supplies at the lowest prices.

Parents with children of school age will do well to visit the Charles A. Rogers Book Company before making purchases of school supplies.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL VEREIN.

The national meeting of the German Catholic Verein will be held in Indianapolis September 19 to 23, and the people of the Hoosier capital are making great preparations to entertain the visitors.

All the Catholic societies in Indianapolis have been invited to participate in the street parade on the opening Sunday.

CLEAN BRASS.

Your strong ammonia on it, then scrub well with a brush, rinse in cold water and polish with a soft, dry cloth. Lacquered brass should be washed occasionally with warm, soapy water, and then dried with a soft cloth and polished with a dry chamola skin.

VERY SLOW

Is Progress of Lloyd-George's Budget in the House of Commons.

The Irish Parliamentary Party Is Pursuing An Even Tenor.

Big Meeting at Monastereboyle Pledges Support to John Redmond.

STRONG RESOLUTIONS PASSED

While the people of England generally and the House of Commons in particular are growing more and more divided over the Lloyd-George budget, the Irish party in Parliament is pursuing the even tenor of its way.

They want the Birrell bill passed as well as the budget. Home rule will come next. Lord Norfolk and the English Catholic clergy, forgetful of the aid given them by the Irish members of Parliament, are trying to place every possible obstacle in the way of the Irish coming into their own.

In America the Catholic clergy had the phrase "For God and country." In England the clergy seem indubitably prone to voice the sentiment: "For England first, then for Catholicity."

But the Irish members are moving right along and are receiving fresh encouragement every day.

Very recently a monster meeting of Irishmen was held at Monastereboyle for the purpose of strengthening the United Irish League in that district and of furthering the division of the untenanted land among the people.

Joseph Dolan, of County Cork, Queenstown, presided. Mr. Dolan is President of the Executive Committee of the league. N. T. Murphy, of Monastereboyle, presented resolutions, which read in part as follows:

"That we pledge ourselves to support the Irish Parliamentary party in its constant effort to win self-government for Ireland; and in order to do so that we help to establish and strengthen a branch of the United Irish League in every parish in the constituency; that we assist the Estates Commissioners by every legitimate means in our power to break up the grass lands and have them divided among the small farmers and deserving laborers in districts so as to relieve congestion."

In presenting his resolutions Mr. Murphy said that all would have to admit that the Irish party was doing all that was possible for the relief of each and every one of them.

In his opinion, he said, the Birrell bill would be a great improvement over the land bills that went before it, and the idea was to get that through the House of Commons.

Hon. Thomas Callan, Mayor of Drogheda, seconded the resolutions and took occasion to say that the untenanted land belonged to the people.

If the people get this land their young men will not have to emigrate to make a living, but would remain contentedly at home.

Joseph Nolan, M. P., explained that for thirty years a great movement had been on foot to restore the land of Ireland to the Irish people, and the movement was still going on with irresistible force.

If the landlords, he said, can not set the land on the eleven months' system they will be forced to accept the terms of their tenants and allow it to be divided among the people, who would turn it to the most advantage.

After several other speeches of a similar nature the resolutions were adopted and it was decided by unanimous vote to stand by Hon. John Redmond and his party.

Friday of last week, the House of Commons held an all night session and the Government succeeded in passing through the committee clauses of the budget imposing a tax on land values, but the land tax as amended and passed differs materially from the measure originally proposed.

Under the original the cost of the valuation was imposed on the owners. This charge has been taken over by the State Treasury, which will be called upon to spend for this purpose $10,000,000. This will be more than the first year's taxes will produce.

FANCIES OF FASHION.

Most of the new coats show added fullness.

Shadow striped mohairs are excellent for traveling wear.

All the pretty, faded, washed out dyes continue to be modish.

Oriental designs and colorings have a great vogue among parasols.

There is a rumor that jackets will not figure in the autumn styles.

High waisted, one-piece frocks are quaint and charming for children.

Narrow embroidered silk ties are worked in colors on white or a color.

Messaline silks in exquisite Dresden pattern make the daintiest of underwear.

Gold and silver threads and colored silks are much used to ornament flax net lace.

Skirtings are nearly all striped, which adds to the long lined effects of the season.

Cross stitch embroidery has a revival. It is used on cushion covers, table covers, bags, etc.

Flax lace or embroidery on netting is one of the most fashionable trimmings of the hour.

Sashes are used wherever a line needs lengthening or floating ends will enhance an effect.

Shaded chiffon in two colors is to be worn extensively this fall over silk shaded in the same colors.

A few garters have crept in as a relief from the tight skirt, and even plaits are once more employed.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Belfast manufacturers report that the linen trade is on the boom.

All Donegal is mourning the death of the Rev. Father John McAttee, curate of Mevagh.

Patrick Morris, a blacksmith, died at his home in Louth at the age of 100 years and five months.

Belfast is becoming very progressive. During July the electric cars carried 848,371 passengers.

James Halyah, M. P., member for West Clare, died recently in London. He was a staunch Irish Nationalist.

Thomas Chugh has been unanimously elected relieving officer for the Lisburn district by the Lisburn Guardians.

James Nolan has been re-elected Chairman of the County Kerry Committee of Agriculture and Technical Instruction.

Master James Fitzpatrick, of Newry, County Down, received two prizes at Camlough for Irish speaking and singing.

Waterford Guardians have passed a vote of condolence with James Walsh, a respected member, on the death of his wife.

The Bishop of Limerick has ordered prayers for fine weather to be said in the mass until the first Sunday in October.

Robert Tierney, a laborer at the Galway gas works, became suddenly ill on returning from work and died within two hours.

Arthur Hughes, Dundalk's harbor master, died after an illness of five days. He was popular with all classes, and his death is generally regretted.

All parts of the country are enjoying fine weather. Hay is being harvested and the crop is good. Second crop potatoes are in bloom and most promising.

Thomas Grady has been elected clerk of the Petty Sessions at Crusheen, County Clare, to succeed John Hehir, who resigned after thirty years' service.

John Glancey and Thomas Casey, both of Carrick-on-Suir, have been awarded $25 each from the Carnegie hero fund for bravery in saving a boy from drowning in the River Suir.

The saw mills at Carrick-on-Suir, County Tipperary, have reopened after lying idle for ten years. Forty hands are now employed and the number will soon be greatly increased.

The wife of Joe Connors, of Clonam, County Wexford, has given birth to triplets. The little fellows seem to be particularly healthy, and are doing well.

Sister Mary Malachi, an esteemed member of the Presentation community at Middleton, County Cork, is dead at the age of sixty-one years.

She entered the convent when nineteen years old. Before becoming a religious she was Miss Margaret Maloney.

General regret is expressed in County Louth over the death of the Rev. Father Peter McCartney, pastor of the parish of Mullabawn.

Father McCartney provided factories in order to furnish employment for the young people of his parish and to keep them in Ireland.

CRITERION CLUB DANCE.

The Criterion Club announces its fourteenth annual select dance at Liederkrantz Hall, Sixth and Walnut streets, on Monday evening, October 8.

Collins' band will furnish the music.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Trinity Council is preparing for a big initiation next Monday night.

President Kelly is anxious for a full attendance of officers and members in order that the exemplification of the degree work may be made duly impressive.

AUSTRALIAN CATHOLICS.

The third Australian Catholic Congress will convene at Sydney on September 29 and will close October 3.

His Eminence Cardinal Moran will preside at the sessions and will open the congress with Pontifical high mass. On September 30 the delegates will be entertained with a music festival.

KEEPING SILVER BRIGHT.

If a liberal sprinkling of baking soda is added to the boiling water in which silver cutlery is immersed it will come out clean and bright; also a little soda and alcohol to remove dark or persistent stains on silver. This is better than the mineral compounds, as soda is soluble and therefore requires less work to gain good results.

WHEN MAKING JAMS.

When making jams and marmalades try the easier and altogether more satisfactory way of haking them in the oven instead of cooking on top of the range, where constant attention and stirring are imperative.

Turn the burner down low and as you stir thickeners around the edges of the pan, kettle or crock, stir it down. No further attention is necessary until it is done, and you run absolutely no risk of burning it.

ANOTHER PLACE.

There was ple for dessert, and the small son of the hostess, taking advantage of the presence of company, pleaded for a second helping, and got it. After he had eaten it all he showed signs of distress and was soon howling lustily and doubled up with pain.

A rather prim lady who was present said to the boy's mother: "He's got no business to yell like that. If he were my child he'd get a good sound spanking."

"He deserves it," the mother admitted. "I don't believe, though, in spanking them on a full stomach."

"Neither do I," said the visitor, "but you can turn him over."

ON TO JASPER.

Knights of St. John Plan
Mammoth Excursion
Tomorrow.

Commandery No. 80, Knights of St. John, will conduct an excursion to Jasper, Ind., the center of a great Catholic community, tomorrow morning, returning tomorrow night. The run will be made via the Southern railway, leaving the Union Depot, Seventh and river, at 7:45 o'clock sharp. On the return trip it will leave Jasper at 7 o'clock. The good people of Jasper have made great preparations to entertain the invading hosts from Kentucky and a good time is promised all who participate in the excursion.

Many Knights and their friends have signified their intention of carrying their families along. A rate of $1.50 has been made for adults, children under five years free. Commandery No. 80 is perhaps more familiarly known as St. Anthony's Commandery, because the majority of its members, belong to St. Anthony's congregation, but the Knights from the other commanderies in Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany will participate in the excursion.

In addition to St. Anthony's there are commanderies at St. Boniface's, St. Martin's, St. Peter's and St. Joseph's in Louisville; St. Anthony's in Jeffersonville and St. Mary's in New Albany. The Knights of St. John is one of the strong Catholic fraternal insurance organizations. In Kentucky and Indiana the membership is largely German, but in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio the majority of the Knights are Irish.

EXPERIENCE

With His Own Helped to Save Another's Baby.

James Maher, of Brooklyn, is the father of eighteen children, and what he doesn't know about convulsions, measles, mumps, whooping cough and such things, children take long to learn. Maher also is inspector for the Coney Island and Brooklyn railway. This much is enough to lead up to the main story. A young mother had a young baby in a street car Saturday afternoon and the infant got convulsions and the mother got hysterics, and the other women in the car got into the street. The motorman stopped the car, which was all he could think of in his excitement.

"Here," yelled Maher as he got aboard and took in the situation, "get to that drug store on the corner quick and bring back some mustard and a dishpan of hot water." The motorman soon was back with them. Maher swiftly took the baby's clothes off and had its feet in a hot mustard bath, while the women gathered around and wondered why none of them had thought of it.

"You've saved the kid's life," said a surgeon from Seney Hospital. "You're all right. You did just what was needed."

All the women insisted on shaking hands with Maher before the car started again.

AS PAPA SEES IT.

A young student of the festive game of poker met Thomas D. Cline Saturday and inquired: "Does three of a kind beat two pair?" "Well," replied Tom, "I've got three of a kind and it seems like a full house to me." He was thinking of the third boy that arrived at his home in Cruger Court last Friday night, the new baby will be christened at Holy Cross church tomorrow afternoon. Another proud young papa this week is John T. Rodgers, the popular linotype operator. A fine baby boy has arrived at his home, 1925 Bank street. The first one was a girl and both are treasures of the Rodgers household.

CATHOLIC CHANTAUQUA.

The Western Catholic Chantauqua, which opened at Spring Bank, Lake Okauchie, Wis., last week, is well attended this week, and even a still greater number of visitors are expected during the coming week. No admission fee is charged and all visitors are made welcome. The speakers and subjects for next week are—Monday, "German Americanism and Its Meaning," William George Bruce; Tuesday, "The Parish Schismatic," Rev. Sylvester J. Dowling; Thursday, "The Russian Schism," Rev. Joseph S. La Boule; D. C. L.; Friday, "Conservative Radicalism," Hon. Paul D. Carpenter.

SHEPHERD WELCOMED HOME.

The Most Rev. Archbishop Farley arrived in New York harbor Wednesday and was given a rousing welcome home by his priests and people. An excursion steamer was chartered for the occasion and several hundred clergymen and laymen met the ship down the bay, where they greeted the returning Archbishop. Monsignor Joseph F. Mooney, administrator of the archdiocese, notified every priest in the vicinity of the arrangements. Later the people will bid Archbishop Farley a welcome home in one of the large New York halls.

FORGING AHEAD.

Frank Cunningham, General Passenger Agent of the Henderson route with headquarters in St. Louis, spent a couple of days in Louisville this week. He brought over the members of the St. Louis Advertising Men's League to attend the national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America. Mr. Cunningham is forging right in the front in railroad circles and is recognized as one of St. Louis' most progressive business men.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Wonderful to Take at Change of Life. 2

Have taken Father Koenig's Nerve Tonic during 15 years as used and have got the desired results, have used it for all my family that distressed feeling at times. Although it is not recommended for I have found it good during pregnancy, it will do away with all those distressing symptoms such as choking, smothering, palpitations, hysterics, trembling and sleeplessness (try it sisters) it is wonderful and will cure you or child. I also find this Tonic good for gas on the stomach and indigestion, one or two doses will relieve that distressed feeling at once; from 1 to 3 doses will cure any case of ordinary headache; and this Tonic wonderful to take at change of life (do try it sisters for this ailment, it will not disappoint you). Mrs. J. W. Westcott.

Corolla G. Medina, widow from Chascon, New Mex. Feb. 22, 1907. I suffered 15 years from palpitation of the heart, after having used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I feel entirely well.

FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample bottle to any address. Poor patients also get the medicine free.

falling off in attendance. It is a quiet and restful place as nature made it, but the free gate, open air concerts and vaudeville have combined to make it most attractive. Next week the usual attractions will be in full blast, and with good weather the crowds will be as great as ever.

PRIEST MOURNS MOTHER.

All Kentuckians condole with the Rev. Father Thomas S. Major, of Frankfort, whose venerable mother, Mrs. Ellen Dudley Major, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Andriott, in Lexington, on Sunday. The deceased was a native of Kentucky and was a member of one of the oldest families in the State. Besides Father Major and Mrs. Andriott she is survived by another son, Dr. George Major, of Bellevue, Ky. She was eighty years old and had been in ill health for some time.

MR. SHAUGHNESSY RESIGNS.

John Shaughnessy has tendered his resignation, as manager of the Galt House after two years of faithful service. He will rest and recuperate at his former home in Madison, Ind., before seeking a new berth. During his stay in Louisville Mr. Shaughnessy made many friends, particularly among the Irish and Catholics, and his departure is sincerely deplored. A Zink, for some time past chief clerk at the popular hostelry, has been appointed manager.

ORGAN FOR ST. PETER'S.

According to advices from Rome an international committee has been formed with the object of presenting to the Pope, in commemoration of his forthcoming golden episcopal jubilee, a colossal organ for installation in St. Peter's Cathedral. At present there are a number of organs in St. Peter's, but all are of a very inferior character. The problem of designing an instrument that will harmonize with the proportions and style of the great building is a difficult one.

CANADA'S CATHOLICS

Will Hold First Plenary
Council in Quebec
Basilica.

The first Plenary Council of Canada will take place at Quebec in the Basilica of Notre Dame on Sunday, September 19. The Archbishop, Bishops, Vicars and Prefects Apostolic and administrators of vacant sees will attend. Besides the auxiliary Bishops and titular Bishops of the Province, the Mitred Abbot of Oka, the proctors of the absent Bishops, the delegates of the chapters of the metropolitan churches and the cathedral, the Vice General and domestic prelates of His Holiness Pius X., the rectors of Catholic universities, the supervisors of the higher seminaries, provincials of the religious orders, and the theologians and canons of the Bishops will have a voice in the deliberations.

The Apostolic Delegate to Canada will preside at the council. Two days preceding the solemn opening of the Council will be spent in nominating the officers, members of commissions and such matters. Decrees studied by special commissions will be discussed in the plenary meetings and promulgated in the solemn sessions which will be held every Sunday in the Basilica of Quebec. The acts and decrees of the council must then be submitted to Rome for approval by the Holy See.

ALL ABLE MEN.

Were Delegates to the Great I. T. U.
Meeting.

The best test of a national convention is shown when the people in the city in which it was held want it back again. That the members of the International Typographical Union conducted themselves like gentlemen is shown by an editorial in the St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette. The types recently held their annual convention in that city. This is what the editor says:

"The delegates to the International Typographical Union convention will close their work today and leave for their homes. St. Joseph has been glad to have them here and it regrets that its visitors are so soon to leave. 'The sessions of this convention have brought new light to every man not a member of the craft who has attended one of them. First, it has been a convention of strong, able men. Not a single State in the Union can produce a Legislature composed of such uniformly strong, high grade men as compose the body just now closing its deliberations. If more legislatures were of as high grade as this convention the country would have better laws. 'In procedure the convention has proved itself composed of able parliamentarians. It has been most dignified and orderly—more so than the average commercial body or State Legislature. The delegates are not only fine looking men, but their work on the floor proves that the ability goes with the good looks. Indeed, President Lynch might, and not unjustly, offer to pit his members against the constituents of President Kitter, of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, with every assurance of winning the beauty prize.

"The convention ends with St. Joseph's respect for the craft it represents highly increased. These men have proved themselves fine, able types of American citizenship, and St. Joseph gives them all a hearty handshake of farewell and good wishes with sincere regret that every one of them can not stay and become a permanent resident of this city. 'If you can not stay now 'come again and come soon.'"

YOUNG MAN'S POLICY.

The Southern National Life Insurance Company, whose home office is in Louisville, and whose advertisement appears in another column, has inaugurated a new policy for young men. At the age of twenty-one years the net cost per $1,000 is only $10.09; at thirty-eight years $13.27, and at fifty-five years $30.75 per annum. The company is a home institution and numbers among its officers and Directors such men of sterling integrity as Ed L. Williams, President; W. L. Kenneth, First Vice President; W. O. Head, Democratic nominee for Mayor; Second Vice President; B. H. Poindexter, Secretary; J. H. Dickey, Treasurer; John W. Ray, General Counsel, and Dr. M. K. Allen, Medical Director.

NOTED PRIEST DEAD.

The Rev. Father Thomas J. Ducey, rector of St. Leo's church, New York City, and one of the most widely known priests in the United States, died at St. James' Hospital, Long Island, last Sunday. He suffered from dropsy and had been ill more than a year. For several months past his case had been regarded as hopeless. Years ago Father Ducey was a warm friend of the late James G. Blaine and had lists of friends among non-Catholics. His death is generally and sincerely regretted.

RIVERVIEW PARK.

Fireworks, free vaudeville and the colored jubilee singers continue to draw crowds to Riverview Park. Despite the cool weather the attendance this week has been above the ordinary. The management promises another fascinating line of attractions next week and favorable weather will be the one thing necessary to insure good crowds both afternoon and evening.

TAKES KRAFT REST.

Henry A. Kraft, President of the Kentucky Market, his wife and children, left Tuesday to spend several weeks at Day View, Mich. Mr. Kraft may visit Detroit, Chicago, New York and Brooklyn before returning home. He delayed his trip to witness the finishing touches on the Kentucky Market House, Fifth and Green streets.
